

National Republican.

WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 26, 1861.

Office, Carr, Sixth and D, near Penna. Av.

W. J. MURTAGH, Editor and Proprietor.

We cannot undertake to return rejected communications. Contributors will therefore perceive expense.

All communications, whether original or otherwise, must be signed by the author.

Subscription price $1.00 per month.

Persons leaving the city for the summer can have the Republican mailed to their address by us. The same cost as this office. Terms, 60 cents per month, in advance.

J. W. GARRETT'S, THE CITY OF WASHINGTON.

No one at all acquainted with the internal management of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will for a moment doubt Mr. J. W. Garrett's skill as a clever shrewd. When, however, he asks us to accept him as an advocate of cheap freights and low freights, it reads a little too much like a grim satire. If promptness is needed to effect an object or dazzling the imagination of Congress, Mr. Garrett has the shrewdness to offer. But his promises, bright as they are, seem to be the most easy things in the world to break. If the people of Washington express any disappointment at this, Mr. Garrett is ready to make amends by offering more promises for the old and broken ones; and II. facts to sustain his assurances are not in his favor, he has a knack of drawing on the resources of fiction and making it serve his purpose for the time. But let Congress and the people see that Mr. Garrett that they understand him, and that what they want is performances, not promises.

Naval Bank.
The following proceedings took place and the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the American Medical Association at the late meeting in this city, as will be seen by reference to page 60 of the published minutes:

The permanent secretary read a protest signed by one hundred and eighteen naval surgeons against the report by Dr. Pinkney.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

C. M. A. & C. H. C. — CAMDEN & CHATHAM.

On hand a large assortment of well made GARNAIGERS.

A number of Second-Hand CARRIAGES for sale.

REPRODUCED ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, for an improvement in the Manufacture of Iron and Steel.

On motion of Dr. J. Lump, of Delaware, the vote referring Dr. Pinkney's report to the committee of publication was recom-

ended by Dr. Massey, the whole matter being referred to the section of Naval and Marine.

THE PERIODICALS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

WE SINCERELY trust the young Virginian who is debarred from admission to the Naval Academy because he declines to swear that he had no sympathy in the rebellion in which his family heartily enlisted will not be any longer proscribed. The test only which they called upon to take before admission to the national schools are a disgrace to our statute books. The more ostentatious the more lying there is, and the more we prosper the children for the rebellion of their parents that rebellion will recruit.

The administration of the test which to a boy who was only twelve years old when the war closed, and who is still a minor, is an absurdity which ought to receive the reprobation of the state. — New York Tribune.

ATTENTION TO THE CORPORATION OF CAMDEN AND CHATHAM.

ON the petition of ROBERT MURRAY, of Chatham, N. J., dated June 10, 1861, granted to him on the 8th day of May, 1860, and